

Course Progress Policy and Procedure

Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to outline Wall Street College strategies in ensuring that the college systematically monitors and reports their student course progress and supporting them to complete their course within the expected duration specified in their CoE.

The college is proactive in notifying, counselling and providing intervention strategy for students who are at risk of failing to meet their course progress requirements. The college reports student, under Section 19 of the ESOS Act, who have breached the course progress requirements.

The practices followed will be in compliance with the requirements outlined in Standard 8 of National Code 2018.

Scope

This policy applies to all overseas students studying in the college.

Policy

The college will ensure that:

- It monitors the course progress of each student enrolled to ensure that they are able to complete their course within the duration specified in their CoE. The college is not required to monitor student attendance as a condition of registration, however, students must meet their visa obligations regarding attendance, wherever applicable.
- It will not issue a CoE with the expected duration in excess of the CRICOS registered duration.
- It clearly informs students the requirements to achieve satisfactory course progress before the course commencement through Student Handbook and Orientation.
- It implements documented policies and procedures for monitoring, recording and assessing the course progress of each student. The college assesses each student's progress at the end of each study period, which is 10 weeks.
 - At risk of not meeting satisfactory course progress = failure to demonstrate competency in 50% or more of the total units in one term.
 - Unsatisfactory course progress = failure to demonstrate competency in 50% or more of the total units in two consecutive terms.
- It implements documented policies and procedures aimed to identify, notify and assist students who are at risk of not meeting their course progress.
- It will activate an intervention strategy when there is an evidence of overseas student at risk of not meeting satisfactory course progress. This mechanism enables the provision of tailored support services based on the unique circumstances of student aimed to support them to achieve satisfactory course progress. Refer to Student Support Policy and Procedure for a list of support services available.
- It will notify the overseas student in writing as soon as practicable when the student has been identified as not meeting the course progress requirements. The written notice will include:
 - Outlining the intention of the college to report the overseas student for their unsatisfactory course progress.
 - Outlining to the overseas student of reason/s for such action.
 - Outlining their rights to dispute the decision within 20 working days by accessing the college's Complaints and Appeals Policy and Procedure.
- It will only extend the duration of enrolment if one of the following criteria is met:
 - There are compassionate and/or compelling reasons, supported by demonstrable evidence
 - The college has implemented or is in the process of implementing an intervention strategy to support overseas student who is at risk of not meeting course progress requirements
 - There is evidence of approved deferral or suspension in line with the requirements outlined in Standard 9 (deferring, suspending or cancelling overseas student's enrolment)
- It notifies the overseas student to contact immigration to seek advice on any potential impacts on their visa, including if a new visa is required to accommodate the extended duration of the enrolment.

- It will only report unsatisfactory course progress in PRISMS in accordance with section 19 (2) of the ESOS Act if:
 - The conclusion of internal and external complaints processes has been reached and the outcome favors the college's decision
 - The overseas student has chosen not to access the internal complaints and appeals process within 20 working days since the receipt of the intention from the college.
 - The overseas student has chosen not to access the external complaints and appeals process, or
 - The overseas student has decided to withdraw from the internal or external appeals processes by notifying the college in writing.
