TRAINING AND ASSESSMENT OVERVIEW:

The qualification is delivered over 78 weeks comprising of:

- 6 terms of 10 weeks each (60 weeks total)
- Holiday breaks amounting to 18 weeks (as specified in the timetable)

Students are required to attend 20 hours of classroom training per week and complete structured self-study of 5 hours per week. Homework is expected to be approximately 5 hours per week.

The training and assessment schedule shows the weeks during which training is delivered and assessment is conducted for each unit.

The total amount of training provided via structured classroom sessions is 960 hours and 300 hours for structured self-study. Time scheduled for in class assessment is 240 hours. Homework which is unsupervised and may include research for assessments and general reading, is expected to be 300 hours in total (or 5 hours per week over a period of 60 weeks).

Total training and assessment hours therefore amount to 1500 and the volume of learning (including unsupervised learning of homework) is 1800 hours. A detailed breakdown of hours is provided in the Training and Assessment Schedule.

WSC has decided on the course duration and amount of training taking into account the AQF Volume of Learning, which is typically 1.5 – 2 years and 1,800 hours to 2,400 hours. It is considered that the duration and amount of training provided will allow students the opportunity to fully absorb the required knowledge, as well as develop skills over time.

TRAINING STRATEGY:

This program BSB60420 Advanced Diploma of Leadership and Management is delivered in an institution-based environment with face-to-face delivery. The mode of training is highly practical with a combination of practical projects, practical tasks within a simulated workplace, tutorials, group activities and theory-based documents.

The context of the simulated workplace environment will be incorporated into training methodologies and students will complete tasks to appropriate workplace standards. Training methodologies employ terminology, equipment, resources, materials, contexts, practices and activities associated with the business (or related) role in the workplace.

WSC will use the following strategies to deliver the program:

In Class Learning Activity:

Trainers will deliver a presentation to the class of a particular topic area that is primarily theory based. The focus of in class learning activities is on transmission and acquisition of key knowledge in the relevant unit of competency.

While delivering each session, the trainer introduces the unit of competency and delivers lecture-style classes. The trainer will elaborate on content, answer questions and encourage group interaction/participation.

Students have at their disposal a computer lab with the necessary resources and computer equipment to create presentations, repeat and reinforce topics taught in classrooms or research topics using the Internet.

Emphasis will be given to reflecting “real work situations” in order to develop the skills identified in the “employability skills” for this qualification.

Relationship of class to assessment

Assessment tasks that focus on knowledge requirements are completed by students on campus within the scheduled face to face hours.

Class Demonstrations:

Demonstrations allow trainers to perform a practical task in front of the students. During the demonstration the trainer will explain and justify each step they take to achieve the goal of the demonstration and answer any questions put forward. The focus of demonstrations is to allow students to see how a practical task can be completed from start to finish or to see how a tool or device can operate in different scenarios.

During class demonstration, students can receive additional support from the trainer. The class demonstration will allow students the time to reflect and absorb the knowledge, and to observe how practical tasks are carried out in different contexts in order to perform assessment tasks successfully.

Relationship of class to assessment

Assessment tasks that focus on performance requirements are completed by students in class tutorials/workshop (below). Class demonstration will allow students to observe how practical tasks are generally completed, which will equip them with knowledge and skills prior to practicing and completing their practical tasks.

Class Tutorials/Workshop:

Tutorials/workshop allow students to complete simulated practical tasks while following the instructions of the trainer. The focus of learning during class tutorials/workshops is on the learner's demonstration of the required behaviors, values and skills of the relevant unit of competency.

During the class tutorials/workshops, students will be required to complete practical assessment activities such as role-plays, meetings, interviews, presentations and related performative activities. Tutorials/workshops generally involves all students completing the same simulated task, but they should allow for individual creative input at various stages and individual experimentation will also be encouraged throughout.

Relationship of class to assessment

Where a unit of competency includes assessor-led assessment tasks, such as role-plays and presentations, these will be conducted within class tutorials/workshop. Assessment performance also occurs in class tutorials/workshop.

Class Activities:

Class activities give trainers the opportunity to better simulate workplace conditions by having students participate in a collaborative task. The focus of class activities is on the practice and acquisition of key skills and knowledge in the relevant unit of competency.

During class activities, student participate in pair work, group work and peer-to-peer activities. They may also conduct individual research and learning activities at their own pace as and where required. Student will subsequently be assessed on their contribution and performance via direct observation or by the collaborative work they produce. Some examples of activities are listed below.

- Collaborative project where all students complete a minor task individually which will be combined to form a larger project.
- Trainer facilitates and in-class discussion on a particular topic area. Students have the opportunity to offer their opinions and share experiences to explore the topic area.

Relationship of class to assessment

Class activities will allow learners to acquire relevant knowledge and practice on performance required from a unit of competency, which in turn help learners to complete both their theory and performance components successfully.

Self-study Activities:

Students are required to complete a range of activities outside of class, such as reading, research, quizzes, and practice tasks to support the face-to-face learning and assessment. These activities are assigned by the trainer during the face-to-face classes and students are provided with written instructions as to what needs to be completed by the next class.

The number and nature of these self-study activities is designed to match the allocated hours for the respective unit in the Qualification Structure table in the TAS.

Trainers monitor and facilitate the completion of these Self Study Activities each week and provide feedback to support the student's learning and ability to complete formal assessment tasks. Trainers are available to students through the student communication portal, email or by face-to-face individual appointment discussions after class learning hours.

Relationship of class to assessment

Self-study activities allow learners to set their own schedule during their time off campus and learn at their own pace. Self-study activities enable learners to acquire additional knowledge relevant to each unit of competency, which will increase the possibility of completing their assessment successfully.

Simulated training environment

The simulated training environment is achieved by using equipment, tools, technology, workplace conditions, legislation, quality standards and approaches to work that match those currently employed in industry. For example, workplace plans (business/operational/ weekly), administration documentation, IT hardware and Microsoft office software applications, telephones, tables and chairs, policy and procedure manual.

Students understanding of the workplace and its requirements will be developed throughout the course. The environment is created to suit the specific unit requirements and the trainer reinforces understanding through relating to their own experience and through the use of learning materials e.g. textbooks, handouts or videos. Depending on the unit content and context the classroom environment is adapted to recreate the simulated work environment.

Appropriate simulated contexts and activities are incorporated into training and prepare students for assessment. These align to the contexts and activities indicated in the units of competency. The simulated assessment contexts and activities also align to the requirements of each unit of competency.

During the practical lessons, sufficient time is allocated for students to perform the required tasks, practice their skills and reinforce their knowledge.

ASSESSMENT STRATEGY:

WSC's assessment strategy for the BSB60420 Advanced Diploma of Leadership and Management course draws on a range of methods of assessment over a period of time. The rationale is based on recommended educational design models which will enable evidence to be gathered suitable to each particular units of competency of this course.

All assessment tasks that focus on knowledge requirements are completed by students on campus within the face-to-face hours, and assessor-led assessment tasks (practical components) are conducted and assessed during class tutorials/workshop under simulated industry environment.

Assessment Materials

Assessment materials comprise:

- Assessor Marking Guide and mapping: includes benchmark answers for each assessment, as well as checklists in which the assessor is to record their assessment decisions. Mapping to each unit is also provided.
- Student Assessment Tasks: There is one for each unit of competency that includes instructions to students about each of their assessments. It also includes an assessment plan where students can record the due dates of each task and an Assessment Task Cover Sheet that must be completed for each Assessment submission.

- Other documents specific to the workplace simulation task requirements are also included with the assessment tasks. These include document templates and simulated workplace policies and procedures and are described in the student and assessor instructions as relevant.

Assessment Arrangements

Assessment will occur through a variety of methods, including projects incorporating role-plays, case studies, observations and short answer questions.

Assessment conditions will ensure a simulated workplace environment for classroom-based assessment.

Assessment tasks:

- Reflect real life work tasks.
- Are required to be performed within industry standard timeframes as specified by assessors in relation to each task.
- Are assessed using assessment criteria that relate to the quality of work expected by the industry.
- Are performed to industry safety requirements as relevant.
- Utilise authentic workplace documentation.
- Require students to work with others as part of a team.
- Require students to plan and prioritise competing work tasks.
- Involve the use of standard, workplace equipment such as computers and software.
- Ensure that students are required to consider workplace constraints such as time and budgets.

Principles of Assessment and Rules of Evidence

All assessment is conducted in accordance with the Principles of Assessment and the Rules of Evidence.

The principles of assessment are:

- Validity
- Reliability
- Flexibility
- Fairness

The rules of evidence are:

- Authenticity
- Currency
- Sufficiency
- Validity

To ensure these principles and rules are followed, the RTO:

- Requires students to submit assessment tasks with a signed Assessment Task Cover Sheet stating that the work is their own, thus ensuring Authenticity.

- Assessment tasks are designed so that all unit of competency requirements are met, a number of times where possible, (demonstrated through mapping) and a number of forms of evidence are used to form assessment decisions, ensuring Validity and Sufficiency.
- Evidence is Current as it relies on evidence collected during the course.
- Reliability is ensured by having clearly defined benchmarks and conducting regular validation of assessment evidence and systems.
- Flexibility is ensured by utilising a range of assessment methods and being able to make reasonable adjustments if required.
- Fairness is ensured through providing clear instructions to students in the Student Assessment Task booklet and making reasonable adjustments as required. Students are required to sign a Student Agreement regarding the assessment tasks for each assessment. Students may also appeal an assessment decision by following the Complaints and Appeals Policy and Procedure.

EVIDENCE-GATHERING TECHNIQUES:

Evidence is the term used to describe the information gathered from the students that is used to assess their competency throughout the course. It can be gathered in a variety of ways and the Trainer/Assessor will use a combination of the methods described above throughout the learning program.
