

Student Support and Welfare Services Policy & Procedure

Purpose & Legislative Background

Clauses 1.3 (b) & 1.7 of Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015 and Standard 6 and 8 of National Code of Practice for Providers of Education & Training to Overseas Students 2018, requires every RTO to determine the support needs of students and provide access to information about support services.

The purpose of the Student Support and Welfare Policy is to foster an environment which is conducive to effective learning and in which each student feels safe and supported and contributes in a positive manner to the Wall Street College community. This policy emphasizes the college's commitment to supporting student learning and well-being and promoting a positive learning environment for all involved.

This policy provides a student support mechanism that not only provides academic and learning support services, but also an opportunity for students to access welfare-related support services to assist with issues that may arise during their study.

Scope

This policy applies to all the current and prospective students of Wall Street College.

Policy

Wall Street College is committed to providing appropriate support and welfare services to students to enable and provide them an environment in which each student feels safe and supported, and contributes in a positive manner to the Wall Street College community.

Wall Street College shall ensure that appropriate student support services are available to assist students in completing their studies and reaching their academic goals.

1. Student Support and Safety

Wall Street College is committed to providing and maintaining an environment that is without risks to the health, safety and security of Wall Street College employees and students. Wall Street College will achieve this by:

- Developing and implementing a Health and Safety Policy.
- Developing and implementing policies on procedure to prevent and deal with any form of discrimination, harassment, or vilification of college employees and students.
- Upholding the Student Code of conduct.
- Appointing an OHS/WHS representative.

- Appointing a Student Welfare Officer to address academic support and welfare related services.
- Providing referrals to external counselling services to students to deal with issues that are not within college's expertise, scope, or authority.
- Keeping students abreast of any general security issues or concerns (relevant to international students in particular) as observed in media, or government announcements; and providing relevant information as appropriate.
- Monitoring student course progress and providing academic and administrative support to all students within the college's policy framework to enable them to achieve their academic objectives.

There are many issues that may affect a student's social or personal life. Students will have access to a Student Welfare Officer to gain advice and guidance on personal, accommodation, or family/friend issues. Where a Student Support Officer feels further support may be required, a referral to an appropriate external support service will be organised.

2. Student Handbook

- All current and prospective students will be provided with a Student Handbook containing all the essential information to adjust to life in Australia including external resources for international students, college facilities and resources to help them with their studies.
- A copy of the Student Handbook will also be available on college's website.

3. Student Welfare Officer

- Wall Street College will appoint a full-time, on-campus Student Welfare Officer to provide student support services including (but not limited to) accommodation, counselling, crisis services, disabilities and equity issues, financial matters, legal issues, medical issues, mental health, peer mentoring, programs promoting social interaction, religious and spiritual matters, and stress-management. Student Welfare Officers will also coordinate learning and academic support services in consultation with the Academic Manager.
- Students will need to make an appointment to meet the Student Welfare Officers. Urgent matters will be attended to promptly on advice of the front desk (initiated by the student) or college staff members.
- Academic and learning support needs will be referred to the Academic Manager. The Student Welfare Officers will, however, ensure that the required academic support services have been provided to the students through scheduled learning support sessions and/or activities, and will maintain a regular communication with the students to obtain feedback. When needed, Wall Street College shall consider appointing/delegating an academic staff as the Learning Support Officer based on a student needs analysis and review of the feedback. This position will be dedicated to assisting and supporting students with academic issues and preparation, including writing, learning, and research skills under supervision of the Academic Manager.

- Counselling services and other external referrals will be arranged if deemed appropriate by the Student Welfare Officer. There is no fee attached to this welfare support and referral service. Any cost charged by the external services will be paid by the students.
- All students are required to attend an orientation day at the beginning of their studies. The staff member conducting the orientation shall discuss the provision of support services and how best the students can avail these services during their studies at Wall Street College.

4. Academic and Learning Support

- Students may have concerns with their attendance, academic performance or other related issues that are placing them at risk of not achieving the requirements of their program or completing within the expected duration. Wall Street College will, accordingly, provide ongoing academic support to students in the form of: Language, Literacy and Numeracy (LLN) programs or referrals to these programs if needed; course progress intervention and academic support if deemed at risk of not completing the course on time; scheduled learning and study support sessions; and academic support for people with disability and learning difficulties.
- Students can access the college's student support services by approaching either the Student Welfare Officer or any staff member in their immediate contact.
- All students will have access to college resources and an equal opportunity to access college programs, services and resources, including Information Technology (IT), course and learning materials, access to academic and administrative staff members, avenues to lodge and resolve complaints, student welfare and student support services, and access to their administrative and academic records.

5. Students with LLN Needs

- LLN needs may be identified through pre-enrolment and pre-training assessments, during student orientation, and/or via trainer/assessors' recommendations. Wall Street College will analyse these needs and provide a strategy for assistance. These needs will be addressed through classroom learning and assessment activities over the duration of the program. Wall Street College's Language, Literacy, and Numeracy (LLN) Policy further supports these needs.
- For all learners, LLN are key underpinning skills that will support their vocational learning, the development of their employability skills and their workplace communication skills whatever level of course or training they are undertaking (The Crux of the Matter, DETT, 2011). Accordingly, Wall Street College will embed LLN principles within its delivery and learning and assessment tasks.

- Wall Street College uses Australian Core Skills Framework (ACSF) as a reference to assess current LLN skill levels.
- Wall Street College may refer students to appropriate levels of English language programs within the RTO or external providers depending on the specific needs/requirements of the student.

6. Students with Disability

- Wall Street College acknowledges the Disability Discrimination Act 1992 and the Disability Standards for Education 2005, and its obligations as an education and training provider to support the rights of students with disability to participate in educational courses and programs on the same basis as students without disability.
- Students who wish to apply for adjustments to teaching or assessment methods on the basis of a disability should contact the Academic Manager and bring supporting documents for consideration of disability (e.g., a letter from your treating professional).
- Reasonable adjustments to training and assessment methods are made using the following principles (Ref: ACARA):
 - Students with disabilities are subject to the standard rules and policy on assessment and teaching methods, and assessment is only varied where a student can demonstrate with appropriate documentation that he/she is disadvantaged as a result of disability.
 - The nature of reasonable adjustments is such that they are designed to minimise the disadvantage experienced by students with disabilities, rather than provide students with a competitive advantage.
 - Any adjustments to assessment for a student with a disability are to be made in such a way as to ensure that the fundamental nature of the assessment remains the same i.e., students with disabilities are still required to demonstrate a pre-determined level of ability in relation to essential competency requirements.

7. Student Hardship

- The requirements of study may present some students with hardship, due to economic, social, or other difficulties. Where genuine hardship exists, a student may seek permission to review their workload or other related matters.
- To make a request, a student will be required to provide a letter to the Student Welfare Officer and/or Campus Manager describing the reason for their hardship. It is essential to include evidence supporting a claim of hardship, for example:
 - Financial hardship: Financial documents, pay slips or bank statements which indicate financial status.

- Medical grounds: Medical certificates stating nature of condition, duration.
- Family Situation: Doctor or Counsellor's report or recommendation, external community/welfare agency recommendation.
- Student Welfare Officer and/or Campus Manager shall review the request and where necessary arrange a face-to-face meeting to discuss the issues and provide the required support through internal or external referrals and advice.

8. Information to Students

Information on student support services, and procedures for accessing these services, including contact details of the Student Welfare Officer will be made available to all the students through.

- Student Handbook
- Wall Street College Website
- Student Orientation Program

The Student Welfare Officer shall ensure that up-to-date information is available for student support services and that any contact details provided are current.

Students may access the Student Welfare Officer directly (e.g., email, phone), by contacting any administrative staff, Academic Manager, or via the front desk. The front desk shall also assist with organising appointments as soon as practicable.
